I am a confident, passionate and creative graphic designer with an extensive experience working with both print and digital media in the community I live in. I have high levels interpersonal and communication skills acquired from the experience of working with large and small organizations (churches) for which on a weekly basis, I have designed flyers for over 50 customers who go back satisfied referring my work to others. And this has increased the revenue for these organizations. I am enthusiastic, and I work with diligence and conviction. I pay very close attention to assigned tasks and generate desired results.
